

SENIOR LEADER BIOGRAPHY

Headquarters, United States European Command

Brig. Gen. John D. Bansemer

Director of Intelligence, U.S. European Command

Brig. Gen. John Bansemer is the Director of Intelligence, Headquarters U.S. European Command, Stuttgart-Vaihingen, Germany. General Bansemer leads the Joint Intelligence Operations Center-Europe which directs the development and execution of all Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance capabilities supporting U.S. interests and regional alliances in the 51-nation European Command Area of Responsibility.

General Bansemer graduated Magna Cum Laude from Roanoke College, Virginia with a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science and Statistics. He entered the Air Force in 1987 as a Distinguished Graduate of Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

His career has included a variety of operational intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance duties. His commands Detachment 3, 18th Intelligence Squadron, Misawa Air Base, Japan; 23d Information Operations Squadron, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas; National Security Agency/Central Security Service Texas and the 543rd Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance Group, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas; and 70th Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance Wing, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

He has served on the staff of the National Security Council, the Air Staff and the Air Intelligence Agency staff. Prior to his current assignment, he served as Assistant Vice Commander, Air Force Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance Agency, Lackland AFB, Texas.